Course Description

The course focuses on introducing students to a third language and culture with a view to preparing them to enter the global workplace. The emphasis is on providing students with an enjoyable, stimulating and interactive learning experience by creating opportunities for them to discover the new culture and practice using the language.

Important Notes

There is a HKD$900 course fee for non credit-bearing courses;

Students are not permitted to take any non credit-bearing course AND its equivalent credit-bearing course, whether concurrently or in succession; they must choose one or the other. If a student is subsequently found to have acquired additional credits by this means, an "F" grade will be given for the course.

For more information on additional language courses, please find from our website,
<http://www.ln.edu.hk/ceal/courses/addlang.php>

Aims

The main aims of this course are to:

- provide you with the pronunciation and grammatical tools necessary to communicate orally and in writing at an elementary level in Japanese
- develop your confidence in your ability to communicate in a new language and maintain your interest by providing varied, engaging and interactive activities
- get you to experience Japanese culture through a variety of activities
- increase your awareness of the global workplace through the introduction of a new culture

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the JAP1101 course, you will:

- be able to recognize essential linguistic features of Japanese in texts and use them accurately orally and in writing.
- be familiar with all the Japanese characters.
- be able to handle numbers, quantities, cost and time.
- be able to ask and answer simple questions, initiate and respond to simple statements in areas of immediate need or on very familiar topics.
- be able to indicate time by such phrases as next week, last Friday, in November, three o'clock.
- be able to ask and answer questions about themselves and other people, where they live, people they know, things they have.
- be able to write simple isolated phrases and sentences.
- be able to follow speech which is very slow and carefully articulated, with long pauses for him/her to assimilate meaning.
- be able to describe him/herself, what he/she does and where he/she lives.

Indicative Content

A range of self-developed and authentic materials will be used to cater for the needs and interests of the students as well as maintain a high level of motivation and enjoyment. Activities will be varied and will have cultural as well as language discovery aspects.

Topics will include:

- key features in the Japanese language, including: describing actions in different tenses; indicating movement using different particles
- greeting others
- self-introduction and introducing others in a social context
- using appropriate language and manners when giving and receiving gifts
- acquiring communication skills for shopping, asking and giving directions, asking the time

Teaching Method

Students will work on a range of activities either individually or in small groups. The main teaching focus will be on using interactive and learner-centred methods of learning where students are encouraged to use and explore the new language. Communicating orally and developing confidence in the ability to learn a foreign language will be paramount in this course. For this reason, a maximum class size of 20 will be set.
