Connect, Share, Learn, Succeed

※ About LEMP

In an ever-changing and competitive society, university students have to equip themselves for their future careers. To better prepare the undergraduate students for such career challenges, the Office of Student Affairs launches a specially designed "Lingnanian Executive Mentoring Programme" (LEMP).

The LEMP mentors will share with mentees their life experience and success stories in academic study and career building. In particular, the mentors will provide updated job market information and professional advice on job hunting to mentees. The mentoring process is throughout mentees' final/penultimate year of study.

Apart from career guidance, mentors are also advised to share with mentees about their leadership and management skills in their work, which are essential workplace skills and very important to students' future career development.

※ Objectives

- Enable students to develop an understanding of the work world and familiarize them with necessary job-related and life skills for specific career fields/professions
- Facilitate students' career planning and preparation at university stage
- Build up students' confidence in job seeking
- Enhance students' leadership and management skills for future workplace
- Enable students to have chances of internship exposure
- Strengthen the "bond" of Lingnanians
